

The Fathom String Trio moves between composed music, open concepts and improvisation with the wish to sabotage constraints to any other genre. With their fascination for new music and experiments, Aline Spaltenstein, David Sontòn Caflisch and Moritz Müllenbach have broad experiences in different groups of contemporary music (Ensemble oe!, Collegium Novum Zürich, Ensemble Phoenix Basel, Ensemble Tzara, a.o.). Besides the care to the classic Trio Basso Repertoire from the Eightees and Ninetees, the trio concentrates on initiating new compositions and projects in collaboration with young artists and composers.

David Sontòn Caflisch: viola
